THE DAILY AVALANCHE

Six thousand people depend on the lumber trade for subsistence at Toledo, Ohio.

Music Hall, New Haven, is to be disposed of by lottery. The building is valued at about $100,000.

Slight frosts have been experienced along the Hudson river; not heavy enough, however, to do much damage.

It is said that John Morrissey's tiger had his claws clipped to the extent of $60,000, this season, at Saratoga.

It is a curious fact that since Victor Hugo moved to Guernsey the value of property on the island has more than doubled.

A Hartford author is engaged on a history of woman's progress, from the earliest ages, to be entitled, "From the Fig Leaf to the Crinoline." A comprehensive subject, surely.

Judge Moody has sued the Missouri Democrat for libel, laying his damages at ten thousand dollars. This makes nearly a half dozen libel suits now pending against that paper.

A successful cultivator of silk in California has sold during the past season several millions of eggs at ten dollars an ounce, for transportation to France.

"Constitutional observance, exact justice, equal taxation or another fight," is the motto of a paper named Daily Sentinel-on-the-Border, printed at Niles, Michigan.

All the suits commenced against General Sterling Price for military acts done during the war have been dismissed by consent, each side paying its own costs.

The National Intelligencer, of the 3d, says that Simon Cameron had reached that city, and had expressed himself strongly in favor of impeachment.

Economy at Long Branch, according to a lady visitor, consists in bringing only thirty dresses, two lace shawls, four parasols, five round hats and three boxes of gloves.

The United States Patent Office recently refused to grant a patent to a spiritualist of New York who applied for a patent for "an arrangement to make ghosts visible."

In central and Southern Ohio all the potatoes, except those planted late, have been nearly destroyed by the rot. In the northern Ohio the drought has ruined all the potatoes, except those planted early.

There is a gentleman going through bankruptcy in Milwaukie whose liabilities are $1,000,000, most of which are in judgments, while his assets are reported at $800 in personal clothing.

The emigration from Ireland is seriously felt by the English farmers at this season of the year. Heretofore large numbers of farm hands have been accustomed to cross the Irish channel to reap the English harvest, but this year the number is very small.

It is rumored in high official circles that should vacancies occur, Fred Douglass will receive the nomination for the office of Commissioner of Freedmen, while Colonel Parker (Indiana), on General Grant's staff, will be placed at the head of the Indian Bureau.

It is proposed to reduce the whisky tax to fifty cents a gallon, and tax each still according to its capacity, discharge all inspectors and detectives, and appoint only a few gaugers and inspectors of stills. This will give us more revenue and curtail frauds.

A Radical Convention of negroes and whites met on the third instant at Wilmington, Delaware, and resolved in favor of the enforcement of negro suffrage by Congressional enactments, besides doing divers other things both foolish and fanatical.

Nine hundred singers were present at the Northwestern Sengerfest in Indianapolis on the third instant. The rehearsals are under the direction of Professor Carl Barus, of Cincinnati. Chicago has been selected for the next meeting.

The only pugilistic contest in which Heenan has engaged within the past six years was with Tom King. His previous fight was with Sayers, in 1859. The fight with King went against the "Benicia Boy," and he retired from the ring. King died in New Orleans, of yellow fever, the other day.

A lad in New York, sixteen years of age, employed in a broker's office, deliberately blew his own brains out a few days since, as he had previously threatened to do should he again be subject to an attack of the headache.

Nine surgeons in the United States service have died during the past month in the cholera and yellow fever localities of the West and Southwest. This is more than the usual mortality in that branch of the service for an entire year.

The English Reform League, according to recent European advices, were about to celebrate the passage of the Reform bill by a banquet. John Bright and John Stuart Mill had written letters recommending the League next to turn their attention to a demand for the ballot.

There is a man in St. Paul who is singularly afflicted. One side of his face never sweats. The perspiration rolls off of the left side of his face in drops, while the right side is entirely free from moisture. He attributes the phenomenon to disease, which he says has stopped up the pores of his face on that side.

When Van Amburgh's show was in Burlington, Iowa, a few days ago, and parading through the streets, the old elephant Tippo Sahib refused to venture on the Main street bridge, and no persuasion could induce him to cross. It is said this same animal fell through this bridge some ten years ago, while attempting to cross it, and he is supposed to have remembered it.

Captain Silas F. Miller, long proprietor of the Galt House, at Louisville, and for some time past lessee of the Burnet House, in Cincinnati, having acquired a fortune in the business, has sold the lease, furniture and fixtures of the Burnet House to R. J. Meruffe, A. C. Joslin and J. W. Dunkiee. The lease is thirty thousand dollars per annum, and has five years to run. The terms of the sale are not yet made public. S. N. Pike owns the building.

A very effective way of stopping the ravages of the army worm has been found in Louisiana. At one stage of their career the worms web themselves on the upper branches of the cotton plant. While in this situation the plan is to go through the fields with scissors or shears in hand, cut off the branches on which the cocooned webs are attached and burn them on the spot.

The widow of John J. Crittenden, who was the widow of General Ashley when she married Mr. Crittenden, has put in a claim on behalf of the estate of her first husband for a valuable tract of land at the foot of Ashley street, in St. Louis. It is claimed that the land was originally granted to the city in consideration that it should be used for water works for the city, which condition, Mrs. Crittenden shows, has never been complied with, and that the land, therefore, reverts back to the estate of the grantor.

A. Birkholtz, formerly of Colt's factory in Hartford, the inventor of a metallic composition resembling brass, for the manufacture of which a company has been formed in Providence, R. I., with a capital of $300,000, has sold his patent to them for $40,000 of the stock, three cents duty on every pound manufactured, and a salary of $4,000 for superintending the manufacture.

The Macon (Georgia) Messenger, of the 3d, says that Mr. Jacob C. Cozatt, conductor on the Southwestern road, was killed, the day before, by a negro on the train, whom the unfortunate man was trying to arrest for having in possession a stolen watch. The negro shot Mr. Cozatt and escaped.

The Columbus (Ohio) Crisis says: "Thad. Stevens, denouncing John Sherman's speech at Canton as worse than Copperheadism, must involve a new definition of 'loyalty.' It is also a racy illustration of the harmonious condition of the Jacobin faction. John Sherman a Copperhead! The epithet will lose its respectability."

A preacher who had his satchel stole from a room in a St. Louis hotel, in his bill to the landlord, which is to be sued, puts the value of his sermons at a hundred dollars each. A similar case occurred in Boston where the discourses were rated at only a quarter part that sum. The Western divine must be one of the six thousand dollar salary apostles, and then discount fifty per cent. for his services.

Dr. P. H. Cardwell, a well known dentist of Knoxville, also a member of high standing in the Methodist church, was severely chastised with a cane, on the street, by Mr. Silas Vinson, on the 3d, for having made insulting advances to Miss Cynthia Rowland while working upon her teeth. The lady is the affianced of Mr. Vinson. Considerable excitement was created by the affair, as the lady is of as good character and standing as any in the city.

The Trial of Alleged Fenians in Ireland.

WASHINGTON, September 6.—Official information from orders to the department states that Mississippi, which has enjoyed the reputation of being the most turbulent of all the Southern States, except Texas, is now comparatively quiet. The Metropolitans have made numerous arrests of horse thieves and guerrillas, and have brought to punishment a larger number of criminals during the past two months than the civil authorities have arrested since the close of the war.

A special to a New York paper says it is known that in the interview between the President and General Grant, last Tuesday, the latter charged upon Mr. Johnson the responsibility of the failure of the Constitutional amendment, by which the South had lost more than the North; for thereby ten organized States had been kept out of the Union until they complied with the proclaimed conditions of safety.

A letter from Sickles to Grant, in regard to the famous "Order No. 10," has been published. He claims that by act of Congress he was fully vested with power to carry out that order.

CHARLESTON, September 6.—Sickles, before surrendering to Canby, appointed Beverly Nash, a prominent negro in Columbia, Police Magistrate.

A special dispatch says a private dispatch tonight announces that in view of grave allegations contained in President Johnson's proclamation, General Sickles will demand a court of inquiry. He will sail from Charleston for New York on Saturday.

General Canby yesterday, on assuming command of the Second Military District, issued the following order, an official copy whereof has been received at army headquarters at Washington: "All existing orders and regulations are adopted and confirmed, and will be observed and enforced unless hereafter modified or revoked by the proper authority." This, of course, retains in force the famous order No. 10, the promulgation whereof caused the removal of Sickles.

MONTGOMERY, ALA., September 6.—The Conservative Convention adjourned to-day after adopting as a platform the resolutions recently passed by the Convention in Pennsylvania, a promise to cherish, protect and defend the Constitution as the only rightful Government; acknowledging the Supreme Court as the only rightful arbiter in all conflicts of powers under that instrument; that each State has exclusive right to prescribe the qualifications of voters, etc. The Convention offered a resolution of its own, expressing an intention to cultivate relations of harmony between the two races, to deal justly with blacks, to teach and instruct them in duties to themselves, to society and their country, and appealing to them to place trust in those whom they know to be honorable, and deal cautiously with strangers, who bear no evidence that they are honorable, until better known.

SAN FRANCISCO, September 6.—This city gives Haight, Democratic, 2848 majority, to the surprise of every one. Every ward but one went Democratic. The whole Democratic ticket, county and municipal, excepting two or three, have been elected. Returns from twenty-six counties show Haight 5000 ahead. It is hardly possible that Gorham, Radical, can come up.

LATER.—Fuller returns from the most populous counties, including Radical strongholds, continue to swell Haight's majority, and make another Congressman uncertain.

KEY WEST, September 5.—The steamship Cromwell, for New York, with cotton, etc., was lost off Indian Key on the 3d. The passengers were saved. The Cromwell had 276 bales of cotton, which was saved dry.

MOBILE, September 6.—Colonel T. B. Shepherd, shot at Mount Vernon Arsenal, a few weeks since, by Captain Schaff, United States army, died yesterday. Schaff has been on trial before a military commission since Monday. The examination was concluded to-day, but the sentence is not made public.

LONDON, September 5.—The weekly returns of the Bank of England shows bullion to have increased to £500,000.

DUBLIN, September 5.—Criminal prosecution commenced against several persons known to be bitter Orangemen, charged with participation in the recent disorderly processions of Orangemen and being parties to the disturbances which occured on those occasions.

COPENHAGEN, September 5.—The report that the Government of Denmark had sold the Danish Island, in Western Indies, to the United States is officially denied.

BERLIN, September 5.—The returns of the recent elections, from all parts of Prussia and other States in the Confederation, show the Liberal candidates for the North German Parliament generally successful, and that the Liberal party will, undoubtedly, have a large and controlling majority in the coming session.

In the Prussian Senate to-day, action was taken which indicates that the Senate is willing to accept the assurances given by the Salzburg Conference as a guarantee of peace in Europe.

The conference which has for some time been in progress here between the Prussian Government and Hanoverian notables, has resulted in the appointment of Baron Von Bismarck to preside over the government of Hanover. His appointment is considered to be peculiarly acceptable to the Hanoverians. Although a native of Prussia, he has an estate in Osterwaid, in Hanover, which he has made his habitual residence for many years.

BADEN, September 5.—The International races continued at Iffesheim yesterday. The attendance exceeded even that of the day before, as the contest was for a grand prize, offered by the Duke of Baden. The French horse Ruyblos was the winner.

NEW YORK, September 6—12 m.—Gold opened at 142¾, and has since advanced to 142⅝. Cotton dull and unchanged.

LIVERPOOL, September 6—11 a.m.—Cotton active and steady; uplands, 10d; Orleans, 10½d; sales for the week, 70,000 bales; exports for the week, 15,000 bales; stock on hand, 750,000 bales, of which 302,000 bales are American. Consols, 94; five twenties, 73¾.

EDITION AGAINST THE STATE OF TENNESSEE.

Judge M. M. Brien's Charge.

The Nashville Press and Times of the 4th contains the following as the subsiance of the remarks of Hon. M. M. Brien to the grand jury, delivered on Monday last. It is not necessary to say that, in our opinion, no good purpose can be subserved by such utterances from the judicial bench:

It is time, as his Honor remarked, that those disturbers of the public peace, who go about vilifying the State and national governments in public harangues, should be made to feel the full force of those wise and just laws they so flippantly decry. He instructed the jury, that for any one to speak in insulting and opprobious terms of the State government for the purpose of creating unrest and dissatisfaction among the people; to denounce, as had become too common, the Legislature of the State as bogus and unconstitutional, and the executive and judiciary officers of the State as usurpers, was in plain violation of this law, and that it was their province and duty to ferret out all persons thus offending, and bring them to punishment.

He also instructed the jury at length in regard to offences against the election and franchise laws of the State, informing them that it was their sworn duty to punish by indictment every person who, in the recent election for Governor and members of Congress, had bribed or endeavored to bribe, or who had intimidated or endeavored to intimidate, any voter, with the intent and for the purpose of influencing his vote. That these were offences against the criminal laws of the State not only, but against the integrity and good morals of the Commonwealth, and were deserving of the severest punishment. He also told the jury it did not matter how much the voter was endeavored to be influenced or intimidated; that for the employer to threaten to discharge the poor and dependent voter unless he should vote in a certain way, was a gross violation of this law, and was indictable; that they were wise and just, demanded and made necessary in order to preserve in their purity republican institutions; and that they were not to be construed strictly but literally.

Black Congressmen.

The colored people of Georgia are moving in earnest on the subject of a share in the offices, and in many instances are receiving encouragement from the better portion of the white population. We have before us the address of James Patrick Fickling, a colored man, announcing himself a candidate for Congress in the first congressional district of Georgia. The Quitman Banner says he has "always borne a good character." Fickling charge that suffrage has been extended to the black race, not in justice or in kindness, but in the expectation of securing office by controlling their votes. The idea of being voted for themselves is very alarming to the philanthropists. He takes broad and determined issue with those who thus "play upon the negro element" for selfish ends. We present the following extract, from which it appears that there is at least one colored man who understands the Radicals:

I am not ambitious for the notoriety of a candidacy for Congress, nor would I consider myself elevated to a post of honor were I elected to a seat in the present Congress; but considerations of the gravest moment to my own race, and to the country at large, impel me to the conviction that the surest remedy for Radical evils is for the South to return colored representatives in preference to strengthening the Radical vote, by sending any of their white representatives at present among us. I am sufficiently posted in the political affairs of this country to know, that it is utterly impossible for any white man from the excluded States, who has any claims to respectability, intelligence or statesmanship, to obtain a seat in either House of Congress. This proscription affords the most conclusive evidence of a determined purpose on the part of the dominant party to suppress the truth, and to employ such instruments only as are capable of being used for the propagation of error and the perpetuation of party ascendency.

There is nothing more certain than that there can be no reconstruction under existing legislation, except on the Radical basis, and by the entire Radicalization of the Southern States, which, in my humble judgment, means anarchy, war, and the early destruction of the colored race on this continent. Of course, ruin will result to the white race, and the whole country must suffer untold evils in the sequel of our destruction. It is, therefore, the duty of every honest man at the South, black and white, to look this question squarely in the face, and, if possible, avert the impending ruin.

It is not improbable that colored delegates to Congress will be rejected; but it is folly to ignore or blink the fact that we now form a part and parcel of the political machinery of the Government, and the correlative right of holding office is an inherent part of the American system, and must follow, as the night to-day, the right to vote. These are the paramount attributes of citizenship in a republican government, and especially so in America. The franchise has been conferred upon my race, either as a matter of right, or for the purpose of using us as instruments to carry out the schemes of the Radical party, and oppressing the white people of the South. I do not believe it was bestowed in love, or upon consideration of right; and the means employed to control our action verifies this conclusion.

Our Southern Widows and Orphans

IT is the duty of every true Southern person to cast in a mite to the support of those who have been left in a dependent condition by the loss of a husband or affectionate father, who laid down their lives in the defense of our once glorious but now lost cause!

And being impressed with a sense of this duty, I have determined to set apart, say one-fourth, of my net income for that purpose; and as my business is the publication and sale of the first classed Southern Literature, for which I have exclusive control of the States of Arkansas and Tennessee, and the counties of Wannington, Holmes, Asala, Winat on and Noxubee, and all counties north of the latitude of Vicksburg, I feel assured that the good people of said section are willing and will send me in my orders, and to time end I, with a gentleman or lady in every civil district, within the above territory, who feels an interest in the needy, and who will give a few weeks time, energy and influence to the business, to canvass their respective districts for one hundred Southern Historical

SATURDAY, : : : : SEPTEMBER 7, 1867

RADICAL littleness and meanness is illustrated in the recent slanders of EMERSON ETHERIDGE. During the late canvass, Mr. ETHERIDGE, with burning eloquence and bitter invective, exposed the corruptions of the thieves who are battening upon the hard earnings of the taxpaying people, and they now seek revenge by traducing and belieing the author of their shame. When the murderer feels the rope tightening around his neck, he despises the law, and the cunning rogue always hates the detective. For the same reason, the Radicals calumniate EMERSON ETHERIDGE. But these attacks will prove as harmless as that once made by the serpent, which amused its leisure moments and improved its teeth by gnawing a well tempered rat-tail file. The dwarfs of the forest suddenly grew bloodthirsty on a certain occasion, and conceived the monstrous idea of slaughtering a giant in their midst. They found him slumbering upon the roadside. Guns of every caliber were planted; every species of projectile known to ancient as well as modern warfare was brought to bear. For two days did the deadly missiles rain upon the slumbering monster, who was finally aroused, turned over, and complained that the falling leaves of the forest annoyed him. These libelers upon the character of EMERSON ETHERIDGE will live to see that the object of their bitter hate heeds their puny assaults about as much as he regards the buzzing of a fly, or as the giant did the popguns of the pigmies. Indeed, he will laugh to scorn these vile assaults. Neither can he be intimidated in his defence of the right by such a pusilanimous warfare. Mr. ETHERIDGE loved a great principle, and in doing so forgot himself, which will not happen with his assailants until they cease to do evil and learn to do well—not until they forget themselves in the great struggle for principle; and this will be when the leopard shall change his spots and the Ethiopian his skin. The man who is willing to sacrifice himself for a principle will not be forgotten in a day. Though a cloud may hang over him time will dispel it, and EMERSON ETHERIDGE will yet be among the most honored, as he is beyond all question among the most gifted of Southern statesmen. We would not give him, defeated as he is, and sometimes wrong as we told him he was, for all the dirty scribblers that have disgraced the hallowed art of printing by perverting the glorious freedom of the press to the low, dirty work of pandering to self aggrandizement, by the traduction and abuse of honest, and, therefore, respected genius. This scurrilous abuse of Mr. ETHERIDGE will be rather beneficial than otherwise. Dear as he was at the commencement of the late canvass to the party he has served so faithfully, he occupies a still prouder place in their affections. Stricken down by a shameful despotism—by wretches whose venal hearts are dead to every ennobling sentiment, and who will, at no distant day, be remembered only to be despised, he is beyond the reach of calumny, and can well afford to despise his assailants. His fame will gain but new lustre from their course, and his hold upon the hearts of the people of Tennessee be but strengthened and increased. While AGIS was suffering martyrdom for the sake of principles, he turned with a look of scorn and defiance upon his enemies and proudly exclaimed, "suffering, as I do, unjustly, I would not exchange positions with my murderers." We would prefer being ETHERIDGE defeated to BROWNLOW elected, for

"More true joy Marcellus exiled feels,
Than CÆSAR with the Senate at his heels."

ALL is not yet lost. The silvery lining begins to fringe the dark clouds that have so long hung like a pall of gloom over the nation. Last spring the Conservatives of Connecticut achieved a glorious victory over the Radicals, and the telegraph, yesterday, brings the gratifying intelligence that the Democrats of California have made the most extraordinary gains, if they have not carried the State. These indications are most encouraging. We will not be able to carry Pennsylvania in the election which takes place on Monday next, but we will most assuredly make large gains. The elections also take place in New York in a short time, and there is not a particle of doubt as to the success of the Democratic party. Greater reactions are to be expected as the public mind cools, and the falsehoods of the Radicals are exposed. The people are determined to have repose. The tide is turning, and may it roll on like that of the

——Pontic sea
Whose onward current and compulsive course
Has no retiring ebb.

We say to our friends everywhere be of good cheer! We have reached the turning point of our destiny. Then let us go on battling against tyranny and for freedom and a white man's Government. The patriots of all parties are conspiring to drive the fanatics from power—the men whose only hope to retain power is by continued strife and discord. The people are determined to consolidate themselves into a power, which will break the angry waves of fanaticism as the ocean waves break before the rocky cliffs that marks their boundaries. Sooner or later quiet and harmony will reign throughout the land, and the festering sores so wickedly caused will gradually and forever be healed. Our most bitter opponents will be forced to acknowledge the justice of our cause, and "Our doubting brethren," in the words of President JEFFERSON, "will at length see that the mass of their fellow-citizens, with whom they cannot yet resolve to act, as to principles and measures, they think as they think, and desire what they desire; that our wish, as well as theirs, is, that the public efforts may be directed honestly to the public good; that peace be cultivated, civil and religious liberty unassailed, law and order preserved, equality of rights maintained, and that state of property, equal or unequal, which results to every man from his own industry or that of his fathers." In the noble contest which will achieve this great result there will be a good many who will play sly, and fish for the popular breeze; but we can only say in a great crisis in the affairs of the nation—when the Republic is imperiled—there is no time for shivering, wavering or hesitation. Freedom, Liberty and Equality are at stake, and the drones will be remembered when the battle is over. The patriots who are laboring and toiling to stay the hand of despotism, are watching these time serving seekers after majorities. The times require men of firmness and boldness—men for whom majorities have no terrors, and who are at all times ready to give a reason for the faith that is in them. In such a crisis

"He that dallies is a dastard—
He that doubts is damned."

Colonel James Kerrigan, ex-member of Congress from New York, recently returned from Ireland with four hundred Fenians, whom he had taken there in a brig to invade the country, and says that they landed at several points on the coast, but found no one favorable to the uprising. They could not obtain supplies without great difficulty and danger, and suffered so much from deprivation that half a dozen men are reported to have died on the passage back. Kerrigan and his followers look emaciated, and are very despondent of revolution in Ireland.

The New York Commercial Advertiser says: "The extent to which the least credulous are gullible by advertisements is almost incredible. It is within the personal knowledge of the writer that the constant daily appearance, in a popular journal, of a semi-editorial paragraph setting forth the anti-bilious powers of a certain lozenge was a standing joke of the compositors engaged on that paper, and its regular appearance evoked much mirthful mention and caustic comment. It is also within the personal knowledge of the same astute individual that every compositor on that paper, at one time or another, purchased one or more boxes of the lozenges for his own use!"

General Canby, who has just been appointed to the command of the Second Military District, is said to have remarked in Washington, last Friday, in conversation with a friend, that he was not a political partisan, but that he had studied the reconstruction laws thoroughly, and approved them, and that he considered their faithful execution essential to the welfare of the nation. He thought it the duty of the Southern people to accept the terms offered them. He is also said to have expressed his appreciation of the utility of the Freedmen's Bureau, and his intention of giving its agents all proper and necessary aid in the execution of their work.

The New Orleans Times of the 3d says: "Quite an excitement was raised in front of the Controller's office, at twelve o'clock yesterday, the banquette and streets being filled with people anxious to know what was going on. It appears that the newly appointed Controller, Mr. Mandel, appeared yesterday morning to enter upon the duties of his office, and announced that fact to Mr. Mohan, the old Controller. The latter promptly declined to vacate, unless the claim was backed by military force. Whereupon Mr. Mandel went to headquarters and reported the fact. In a short time Colonel Forsyth made his appearance in the Controller's office, accompanied by a corporal and two privates, and asked Mr. Mohan if he would yield. The latter gave in to the military force, and bayonets triumphed."

WASHINGTON, September 6.

The National Intelligencer confirms the reports of the speedy issue of a proclamation of amnesty to the mass of the Southern people. It also says that the rumor of a change in the War Department is wholly without foundation in truth, and we cannot give credence to the report that Cabinet changes are imminent. The Intelligencer is authorised to say that the account of the alleged interview between the President and General Grant, in which the latter is represented to have spoken and conducted himself in a manner in the highest degree reprehensible, is a fabrication from beginning to end.

A political organization, styled the Grand Encampment of the United States and National Union Johnson men, held a meeting this evening. The proceedings were conducted in secret. It is understood to be a branch of other similar associations elsewhere.

FRENCH MEDICINES PREPARED BY GRIMAULT & COMPANY

Chemists to His Imperial Highness Prince Napoleon.

THESE different medicines represent the most recent medical discoveries, founded on the principles of chemistry and therapeutics. They must not be confounded with secret or quack medicines, as the signature sufficiently indicates their composition; a circumstance which has caused them to be appreciated and prescribed by the faculty in the whole world. They widely differ from those numerous medicines advertised in the public papers as about to cure every possible disease, as they are applicable only to but a very few complaints. The most stringent laws exist in France with regard to the sale of medical preparations, and only those which have undergone an examination by the Academy of Medicine, and have been proved efficacious, either in the hospitals or in the practice of the most eminent physicians, are authorized by the government. This fact must be a guarantee for the excellency of Messrs. GRIMAULT & CO.'s medicines.

Dr. Lerns' (Doctor of Medicine) Liquid Phosphate of Iron.

The lowest and most convenient medicine in cases of CHLOROSIS, PAINS IN THE STOMACH, DIFFICULT DIGESTION, DIARRHŒA, DYSENTERY, ANÆMIA, GENERAL DEBILITY and POORNESS OF BLOOD. It is particularly recommended to regulate the functions of nature, and to all ladies of delicate constitution, as well as to persons suffering under any kind of debility whatsoever. It is the preservative of health par excellence in all warm and relaxing climates.

No More Cod Liver Oil—Grimault's Syrup o Iodized Horse Radish.

This medicine has been administered with the utmost success in the hospitals of Paris. It is a perfect substitute for COD LIVER OIL, and has been found most beneficial in DISEASES OF THE CHEST, SCROFULA, ARTIFICIAL DISORDERS, GREEN SICKNESS, MUSCULAR ATONY and LOSS OF APPETITE. It regenerates the constitution in purifying the blood, being the most powerful depurative known. It has also been applied with happy results in DISEASES OF THE SKIN. Further, it will be found to be of great benefit to young children subject to HUMORS and OBS

UNITED STATES COURT.—A few judgments by default were taken on yesterday. No cases have as yet been reached for trial. Micajah Bullock and W. D. Notion were admitted as members of the bar of this Court. One of the traverse jurors was fined ten dollars for not being present to answer to his name at the regular hour. At an early hour the Court adjourned over to-day.

A STERLING COTTON FIRM.—The cotton trade of Memphis is more important as an element of its prosperity than any other. To foster it there is no more efficient circumstance than the high tone of cotton dealers and commission merchants. It is, therefore, with very great pleasure that we commend to planters the firm of J. M. Patrick & Co., No. 224 Front street. Intelligent, experienced, straight forward and reliable in every transaction, they are a firm that can be safely trusted to look well after the interests of their patrons.

MORE ABOUT THE RAMSAY MURDER.

Suspicious Persons Prowling About.

The articles that have appeared in several of the papers—evidently written with a purpose to dissipate impressions that might have been drawn from the statements and inferences of the AVALANCHE—show such an ignorance of the antecedents of parties, and of police management, that they are unworthy of notice. The opinion was expressed by us that circumstances would have justified grave suspicions of Mr. Clark; but we were careful not to excite undue prejudice against him, by reference either to his antecedents, his mode of life, his reported expressions hatred to Ramsay, or his alleged acquaintance with detective officers. We did not then say that he was the murderer, nor do we think so now. We believed then, as now, that the arrest of Mr. Clark, and the parties in that section with whom he had been intimate was the right mode of police investigation. We could mention many circumstances to sustain this opinion, but the game is not worth the powder. Blundering has obliterated traces of the assassins Mr. Clark has proved an alibi, and is thus exonerated from the perpetration of the crime. Who did it will probably forever remain as great a mystery as that of who killed General Bankhead.

Some new facts are, however, coming to light, which may result in the capture of men who prowl about that section of country near the Raleigh, Macon and LaGrange roads, as if with murderous intent, albeit part of their paraphernalia is exceedingly odd. Yesterday morning, on the LaGrange road near the Memphis and Ohio railroad, two negroes discovered a man sticking in the same blind which was discovered on that road some days ago. He had with him a shot gun and two buckets. The negroes gave information to the neighbors, who repaired to the spot; but the man had gone. They saw his tracks, where he had been sitting, but could not come up with him.

A man of similar description was seen close by that place on Thursday evening, endeavoring to catch a loose horse. He had with him two buckets.

Two strangers appeared on foot, in the town of Raleigh, on yesterday morning, where they remained a short time, then left, but subsequently returned in a different dress and each carrying a gun. They were afterwards seen by a lady, as they were lying in a ravine near the town with their guns. The lady reported the fact, and citizens set out after them, and hunted them all the evening, but in vain. It seems probable that these lurking fellows have some harboring place. It would not be strange if in cahoots with some Egbert dealers in counterfeit money and stolen horses. The circle of alchemy, or some other association of villains, may have a station between this and Raleigh.

ITEMITAS.

It is expected that the Mechanic and Stonewall base ball clubs will consolidate.

The Watkins Infirmary is to be under the charge of the Sisters of Charity. It is now open for the reception of patients.

John Caleb was drowned in Wolf river yesterday by falling out of a dugout. He lived on Hen and Chickens Island, and leaves a family to regret his loss.

There were only two arrests at the lower stationhouse on Thursday. This when there is no election at hand is singular.

The police were hunting Tom Malone, the keeper of the chain gang, yesterday, to explain how two of his wards made their escape.

Thirty-three cars loaded with freight for the merchants of this and other Southern cities, arrived here yesterday, by the Memphis and Ohio railroad.

Harry Nevils was arrested for stealing a pair of pants and fifty dollars from a river man named Tom Campbell. Nevils was arrested and taken before Squire Moore.

A cowhiding on Main street, yesterday, attracted some attention. Neither the flogger nor flogee would afterwards tell the cause of the public chastisement, but it is rumored that a woman is somehow connected with or mixed up in the affair.

It will be seen by an announcement in another column that the excursion of Mr. Vigus, and the class who will travel with him to the most interesting localities in Europe, is very shortly to make a start.

John Miller, a negro, was arrested for stealing fourteen dollars and a fine silver watch from James Horn, who lives on Mulberry street, near Vance. Miller was taken before Squire Black, and held to answer at the next term of the Criminal Court.

Jack White having threatened to shoot Mike Davis, was, yesterday, arrested and bound over by Squire Lee to keep the peace for sixty days. If his anger ain't cool at the end of that time, new steps will be taken.

Ten rough looking fellows who came down on the Memphis and Ohio railroad, from Paris, on Thursday, admitted that they were deserters from Brownlow melish. They had got tired of the affair, and came this way as the safest route to their homes.

At the grand closing ball of the season at Raleigh Springs, on Thursday night, Miss Ward, the young lady who was crowned at the Juka tournament Queen of Love and Beauty, was present with all the knights and maids of honor of that gay festival.

F. S. Hallman having been three times turned out, as is supposed, by parties who wish to destroy papers containing evidence of transactions in military times, and his present neighbors being apprehensive that such dastardly attempts may be continued, Mr. Hallman and his neighbors wish us to state that the papers have all been sent to a safe place in the county.

Costillo's friends have called to say that he was struck, but not as much whipped as reported, and, if he had been, he was unable to use one of his hands, that was not yet well from a sore received in the Mexican war. Costillo's friends grew out of a misunderstanding. It should be stated that it was not Costillo, the gentlemanly livery stable keeper, who was in this difficulty.

A curious little bill is shortly to be presented to the City Fathers. When Mr. Burke was City Inspector, the Board of Aldermen passed an ordinance authorizing the inspection of flour and provisions. Mr. Burke now says that, owing to the directions, cajoleries or intimidations of the Mayor, he never did inspect any flour or provisions, and that if he had done so he would have made much money while he was in office, wherefore he asks the city to pay him two thousand dollars.

The Pride of the South and Enterprise base ball clubs will play a series of games, with the understanding that the club that is best in two out of three contests is to be considered the champion club of Memphis, and will play the New Orleans boys when they arrive here. The first game of the series will be played on Wednesday, on the Enterprise grounds, at three o'clock. It will probably be one of the most sharply contested games of the season.

Yesterday nearly a cart load of dirt and rubbish was taken out of the new sewer crossing at the corner of Second and Jefferson streets. This demonstrates that a new system will have to be adopted in the construction of these sewers. Rough stones in the bottom will not answer. The dirt accumulates too fast. It will be found that smooth cement on the bottom will be a great advantage.

The Franklin Insurance Banking Company is to resume business to-day. The Directors have replevied the assets from the attaching creditors, and have elected M. D. L. Stewart, Esq., President of the reorganized institution. The known intelligence and reliability of Mr. Stewart are guarantees that the Franklin Insurance Company, under its reorganization, will be deservedly popular.

An absurd rumor, picked up by some traveler, who heard railroad employes at Bowling Green speaking of a transfer of the Mobile and Ohio railroad to the Louisville and Nashville Railroad Company, forms the basis for an attack in one of our contemporaries on the management of the Memphis and Ohio railroad, which is also supposed to be in process of absorption by the Louisville and Nashville railroad. Why don't they add to the rumor that the Central Mississippi and Memphis and Charleston railroads are also to be bought up by the Louisville and Nashville road? Even if there was, yet certainly neither the stockholders of the road, nor the public, would have any cause to regret that the Memphis and Ohio road did not pass into the hands of Brownlow's Receiver and the harpies that wanted places under him.

In Arkansas, recently, some enterprising blacks stole a saw mill, and bringing its parts to Memphis, made a good thing by their sale. This was a big job. Near Collierville the colored race has shown its enterprising character by stealing all the iron work and machinery of a flouring mill, and bringing it to Memph's to be sold as old iron. Both these cases were, however, outdone on Thursday, in this city. Mr. Fred. Warner had just laid down a nice pavement in front of his property, at the corner of Winchester and Second streets. He went down town to attend to some business, and in his absence some blacks came to his place, and representing themselves as employes to prepare for the Nicholson pavement, actually tore up and carted to parts unknown, all the fine brick of Mr. Warner's pavement.

Sergeant Crupper and Officer Wright, both of the Metropolitan Police force, were tried recently before Judge Hunter for clubbing a woman who was shortly to become a mother. On the trial it was shown that the woman was disorderly, and had resisted being hauled along to the police station. She had struck with her hand in the face one of the police gentlemen whereupon he drew off and tapped her on the head with his club, which at once reduced her to quietness. On this evidence the accused were acquitted. Judge Hunter deprecated the too frequent resort to violence by police officers, but held that in this case the resistance justified clubbing the woman. Of course this is law. Judge Hunter is too eminent a jurist to be mistaken. If the police department was controlled by conscientious with sentimental noddies they would say, "Crupper and Wright may have the letter of law on their side, but they were certainly in no danger that justified a resort to clubbing; and if they could not together take a female prisoner without knocking her on the head, they are not strong enough to be policemen."

There are in the county Hospital quite a number of patients that rightfully belong to the city. The county has made no bill for the keeping and medical attendance given to such patients, not being ill supplied, the county physician asked the City Fathers, at their last meeting, for the unused cots that are lying in the old hospital building, on the corner of Exchange street. This very proper request was treated with discourtesy. The City Fathers don't like the county physician. A good many other people didn't like either his professional or political record, but that was no sufficient reason for treating his request as it was treated. Ordinary manners would scarcely have acted thus unless they intended to pay the county against them; and it is fair to conclude that the City Fathers are carrying out one of their grand financial projects in keeping on hand a lot of old, useless cots, but paying the county round bills for the keeping and medical attendance of city patients.

COTTON DEALING PRINCES.—If there were no cotton factors where would Memphis be? Her cotton factors and commission merchants are her pride and dependence. They do more to build up her business reputation than almost any other class, and their integrity and upright dealing causes her name to be respected far and wide. Among the foremost of those who contribute so largely to the reputation of our city are Jones, Brown & Co., 286 Front street. They do a large cotton factoring and commission business with the utmost promptness and dispatch. They are reliable and energetic and can't be beat.

MRS. CUTHBERT'S BOARDING AND DAY SCHOOL FOR YOUNG LADIES, Nos. 1418 and 1420, Pine street, St. Louis, Missouri.—This institution will re-open Monday, September 9th, 1867. During the past year the number of pupils neatly reached the limit assigned by the Principal, as it is her purpose to take only those under her care who will receive her personal oversight and direction in their studies. With a full corps of carefully selected and experienced teachers, the course of instruction will be thorough and comprehensive, combining a useful and accomplished English education with the practical acquisition of the French language, which is the language of the family. The services of Madame Grandjean, for twenty years the head of the celebrated Pestalozzi Institute, Sausanne, Switzerland, having been secured as resident French teacher, the Principal feels that she is enabled to offer advantages in the acquisition of the French language superior to any Institution of the West. Parties who commit their daughters to the care of the Principal, as members of her household, may rely with perfect confidence upon her regard for their welfare, as it is her aim to realize as nearly as possible in the school the idea of a refined, attractive and religious home.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Business on the wharf, yesterday, was more active than any previous day during the week, with a fair list of arrivals and departures.

The weather yesterday was very warm towards evening, and dark clouds gathered in the horizon, with indications of a rain storm. The storm, however, passed over with a light shower and a few hard blasts of blustering.

The Henry Ames, from St. Louis for New Orleans, passed down yesterday morning. She was five days in working her way through from Cairo to this point.

Mr. Patrick Wheat, owner of the J. D. Perry, arrived on the Rowena, and was making arrangements yesterday to have the Perry painted and cleaned up for the fall campaign.

The Princess, from St. Louis to Little Rock, passed down in the evening.

The St. Patrick dropped down to the landing, and is ready to receive freight. She starts on Tuesday.

The Rubicon was due up for St. Louis, but had not arrived at nine p.m.

Our friend Frolich, of the Searcy Record, after a good time generally, will leave this evening on the Rowena for the wilderness which he is helping to "blossom as the rose." He came very near losing his heart here, and would, but he left his specimens at the Worsham, where he had been sojourning. The "light of other days" was secured for him, but as he is going home, and we have not been invited to a wedding, we take it for granted there is a gentle heart in Searcy that will not throb itself through on unredeemed promises.

The silver Cloud left Cincinnati for New Orleans Wednesday evening.

The ANNA, which was loading at Cincinnati for Memphis, has given up her trip and goes to New Orleans.

A strict quarantine has been established at Vicksburg to guard against the yellow fever, which is prevailing at New Orleans.

The fine steamer Rowena, Captain John B. Davis, is the regular Saturday White river mail packet. She leaves at five p.m., taking freight and passengers for all way points on White river. Messrs. Kidder, Mill. Harry and Sharp—gentlemen who are noted for their urbanity and courtesy—have charge of the office.

We publish in our columns this morning an interesting communication from the immortal "J. N.," reviewing the White river trade and commercial interests of Memphis, from his own stand point.

New Orleans was visited on Wednesday night last with a severe rain storm, which flooded the streets, preventing persons from reaching their destinations.

While the steamer R. E. Lee was being launched from the Mound City ways, on Wednesday, two cradles under the bow stopped, while the others went on, throwing the stern into the river, and leaving the boat some distance up the bank. The boat was badly twisted.

The Lady Gay passed down last night. She lost several hours by grounding.

The Guidon's passenger receipts from St. Louis to Fort Benton and return, exceeded the sum of thirty thousand dollars.

Captain James Pepper has resigned the capitaincy of the Arthur, and has returned to Cincinnati. Captain Louis Drouillard takes command of the Arthur.

The Norman cleared for White river yesterday, with a few tons of White river freight.

The J. P. Webb backed out for Evansville at noon, with a few bales of cotton.

The City of Cairo is the regular Saturday St. Louis packet.

The Victor No. 3 is the regular Saturday Hall's Point packet.

The regular Vicksburg packet St. Patrick has had her repairs made, and will resume her regular trips on Tuesday next.

Colonel Robinson, Superintendent of the Memphis and Little Rock railroad, and Mr. Desmede, contractor, with fifty laborers, from Georgia, go around on the Rowena this evening, to put the railroad in repair from Duvall's Bluff to Little Rock. After that is finished they will commence on the Eastern division.

FROM OUR REGULAR WHITE RIVER CORRESPONDENT.

KEVT, THE IMMORTAL, J. N.

RIVER EDITOR AVALANCHE: I should judge that our little stream, White river, will be crowded with steamers this season. Well, in one sense of the word, this is very agreeable. But with this, as well as in all matters, there are two sides to the question. Here we behold several boats ready to enter the trade, just at a time when business opens, and, in some cases, offer to carry freight at greatly reduced rates. This is a feature which, individually speaking, I admire, because my freight bills will become somewhat reduced. But, on the other hand, I revert to the fact that our regular packets, the two commercial and Rowena, have run during the whole of the unprofitable season at a loss of nearly $1000 on every trip, and brought my freights at living rates. This brings on a thought, that justice to myself as well as to the regular packets which accommodated me and our people along the entire river and interior of the country during the dull season, requires us to frown down, as much as practicable, those boats which come in at a season when there is little to lose and all to gain. I say justice, (and I mean it, too,) requires the Memphis merchants to patronize our home packets, which stayed with us during the hour of trial, and withhold their patronage from them, if they have any regard for the people of the White river valley. Captain J. B. Davis, the energetic and obliging superintendent of the steamers Commercial and Rowena, has succeeded in establishing one of the best lines of packets that leaves the wharf of Memphis, and by his untiring zeal and promptness has won the esteem and friendship of every man, woman and child along the White river. This is a broad assertion, but you know full well that this is the common phrase used by all the people from our section. Our merchants have come to the very natural conclusion that Captain Davis' line is an institution of whose benefit we must not be deprived, and with that view they mean to purchase their supplies only from those who extend their patronage to his line, or, rather, our line; for these boats have been so long in our river, that their names are endeared to us and have become household words. Their promptness, reliability and safety have become so great that our people will travel on none but these steamers, even should they raise their price of passage.

The Memphis merchants should remember that the sharks or outside boats, which are now swarming on our stream, are supported by the merchants of Louisville and St. Louis. For instance, the steamer Norman has an appropriation from the Louisville Chamber of Commerce, upon which they draw on their return trip in case any deficiency arises in their cash account. With such assurance, of course a outside boat, as above, can well afford to carry freights for a short period, at reduced figures. This the Memphis merchant should endeavor, by all possible means, both for his own welfare and for the people of the White river valley to divert. The Louisville and St. Louis merchants are aiming to draw the trade of our country to their cities, by greatly reducing the price of freight for a short period. Therefore, I say the merchants of Memphis, especially, should stand by Captain Davis' line and help him all in their power if they wish to retain the trade of the people who inhabit the fine valley from our country. This is no chimerical idea or fancy sketch drawn from an imaginative brain, but facts which can be fully seen upon inquiry.

There is an institution in Memphis of which I wish to make favorable mention, and it is the Worsham House. Its gentlemanly proprietor, Mr. C. B. Galloway, will treat you with politeness, and his affable clerk, Mr. C. R. Miller, is ever ready to extend the hand of friendship. This house has gained a just and well deserved reputation under the management of Mr. Galloway, as no house in the West sets a better table than does the Worsham, and its rooms are pleasant, and everybody stops at this house; so you will be likely to see something friends.

Yours, etc., J. N.

Liberal Advances—Supplies at Wholesale Prices

Commission for Selling Cotton $1 per Bale

To the Cotton Planters of West Tennessee, Alabama, Mississippi and Arkansas.

THE undersigned respectfully tenders his services as Agent for the sale of your cotton in this city, and for the purchase of your supplies. The unfortunate termination of the late war, which so materially affected the best interests of the south, has also had its effect upon the commission business of this city, as transacted between planter and merchant. The doubtless will remember with what pertinacity, (previous to the war) amounting in some instances to annoyance, you were solicited for your business, at the rate of fifty cents per bale commission, free of drayage, and stored for twelve months without charge. Then (as will be again) the producer was the ruling element, and high rents, rich landlords and merchants, were the result of planters' patronage.

No people or communities have been more seriously prostrated than planters and planting, and none so much deserve to be fostered and aided in their present changed condition.

How shall aid, so much needed, be rendered? Not in corn, pork, or, too well know. Onerous government taxes in general, and a special tax upon your leading production, cotton; large profits you have had to pay upon supplies furnished; commission on sales, varying from $2 50 to $5 per bale; monthly storages at exhorbitant prices, and other expenses, as per reference to your account of sales, as a sum total, will leave you out little, if anything, upon which to rebuild your shattered fortunes, or to compete with the new order of affairs, free labor.

When I withdrew from the cotton commission business in 1860, private reasons then led me to believe that I would never engage in it again. The solicitations of many friends, that were former patrons, and a desire to promote the interest of the planting community, so far as my feeble efforts can do so, and the apparent want of gratitude exhibited to a community that in times past has tendered so materially to the prosperity of Memphis and its mercantile community, has entertained me again to offer my services in the capacity as stated. The reduced stock of cotton in the United States and short supplies in the hands of New England manufacturers, has caused some advances in prices from the late depression, hence early sales may be prudent and remunerative. Such was the case the past two seasons, and many planters have had cause to regret the acting upon the too common practice of holding and drawing upon their cotton. I would advise no planter to send forward his cotton unless he wished it sold upon the first active market; it can be held at home no more dear than in Memphis.

My charges for selling cotton will be one dollar per bale. Insurance effected in all cases, if not instructed to the contrary. I shall buy your supplies from wholesale houses, giving you the benefit of same. In short, by strict attention to your interests in all the departments of our business, I hope to merit a large share of patronage.

Very respectfully,
R. A. MOON.

POPE AND THE PRESS.

Suppression of the Albany, Ga., News—The Article that Gave Offense.

A brief telegram to the Associated Press announced that General Pope (John Pope) had suppressed the Albany (Georgia) News for expressing disloyal sentiments. It may gratify the reader to see the article which this King John accounts disloyal—and so we copy it, entire, below:

KING JOHN.

John Pope, one of the five American monarchs, and King of Georgia, Alabama and Florida, has issued his Royal Edict, No. 49. Had any one predicted five years ago that a person would be clothed with authority or placed in a position to issue such an order in this country, he would have been accounted fit only for a lunatic asylum; but now, so far from that, we are becoming accustomed to such things, and are bowing our necks under the imperial yoke with all due submission.

King John, when he was nothing but a Major General, had his "headquarters in the saddle," but now he sits on a throne erected in Atlanta, and wields a scepter over a realm embracing what some people are simple enough to believe "are three States of the Union," to wit: Alabama, Georgia and Florida. In those States newspapers are printed, and people, to make their business known, advertise in them; civil officers are also in the habit of informing, through these papers, the people of the time and place of public meetings in which they are interested. The edict No. 49, from His Majesty, King John, directs that these civil officers must publish their advertisements in a certain class of newspapers—those favorable to the Congressional policy of reconstruction, and he instructs all military officers, of whatever degree, grade, or style of service, to see that this edict is strictly enforced, and to promptly arrest and report the slightest violation of it.

King John has, in reality, no such power and authority. It is an assumption of despotism which no absolute monarch in the world, except one of the five American Monarchs, would dare think of for a moment. It would cost the Kingdom and Throne of the Mightiest ruler in the Universe to attempt such an abridgment of the people's rights. How long will the American people submit to such things? Can't they see the inevitable tendency of the "Spirit of '76?" The quicker King John's throne crumbles to the dust the better it will be for the country.

American Widows in Europe.

The intermarriage of Americans and Europeans is the subject of remark of the Paris correspondent of the Baltimore Gazette, as follows:

American widows are in decided demand on the continent, as is evinced by the numerous matrimonial alliances contracted by them. It is but a few weeks since the attractive widow of a Northern Brigadier General, killed in the late war, was led to the altar by a distinguished Irish commoner, though she had declared her intention when coming abroad to captivate an English duke, and nothing less. She could not, however, withstand the Irish blarney, but surrendered to a Dublin squire. More recently the beautiful Mrs. Hewit, of Louisiana, has given her hand to a Polish gentleman, a citizen of New York temporarily residing in Paris. The marriage was celebrated at the American embassy, and afterwards at the Chapel Marbeuf, from whence the bridal party, with their friends, adjourned to dejeuner at the handsome new apartments in the Champs Elysees. Other fair widows are reported (and include in the number a young and interesting lady) from the Monumental city who is about to be wedded to an officer of the English navy) as upon the high road to a second state of matrimony, while young American maidens are complaining of the scarcity of beaux, and many of them declare Paris to be stripped from the want of eligible young men to flirt with or marry. These all echo Mr. Weller's advice to his son Samuel, when he bids him 'beware of the widows.'

COMMERCIAL.

DAILY AVALANCHE OFFICE,
SATURDAY, September 7, 1867.

Trade in the leading markets remains quiet, with a fair local and shipping trade doing. Business is gradually improving. Mercantile of every description is being purchased in large quantities, while the streets are thronged with ped estrians, which gives our main thoroughfares a busy aspect. The prospects of the cotton crop are encouraging, and the yield will be greater than anticipated some six weeks ago. Cotton on the uplands is sufficiently opened for gathering, and in a few weeks the staple will commence coming in free y.

GROVER & BAKER'S

CELEBRATED

ELASTIC STITCH & LOCK STITCH

SEWING MACHINES

Why the Grover & Baker Machine is Best.

1. It is more simple, durable, and less liable to derangements than others.

2. It sews from ordinary spools, and no rewinding of thread is necessary.

3. It sews with equal facility all fabrics, the most delicate and heaviest, and with all kinds of thread alike, cotton or linen.

4. Its seam is so strong and elastic that it never breaks, even on the bias.

5. It fastens both ends of the seam by its own operation.

6. Its tension, though once very sensitive, remains firm, and neither runs nor ravels in wear.

7. Its beauty is more pleasing and beautiful, and retains its pliantness and beauty after washing better than any other.

8. The seam can be removed in altering garments, after proper instruction, without picking or cutting them.

9. Watching and picking the tensions on the threads necessary in other machines, is unnecessary in this. The tension being once adjusted on the grover & Baker machine, any amount of sewing may be done without change.

10. It makes beautiful embroidery with as any change of apparatus, simply by inserting stretcher, changing slides and colors for the purpose. It is the only machine that is thus provided and sews perfectly.
